

Sinclair
Broadcasting's
choice to air a partisan anti-Kerry
documentary just before the national election is a clear
example of direct
electioneering by a
large media
corporation - and may very well be illegal.

It is a
broadcaster's duty
to serve the public
in an impartial way,
not serve as a
mouthpiece for one
political party or
the other.